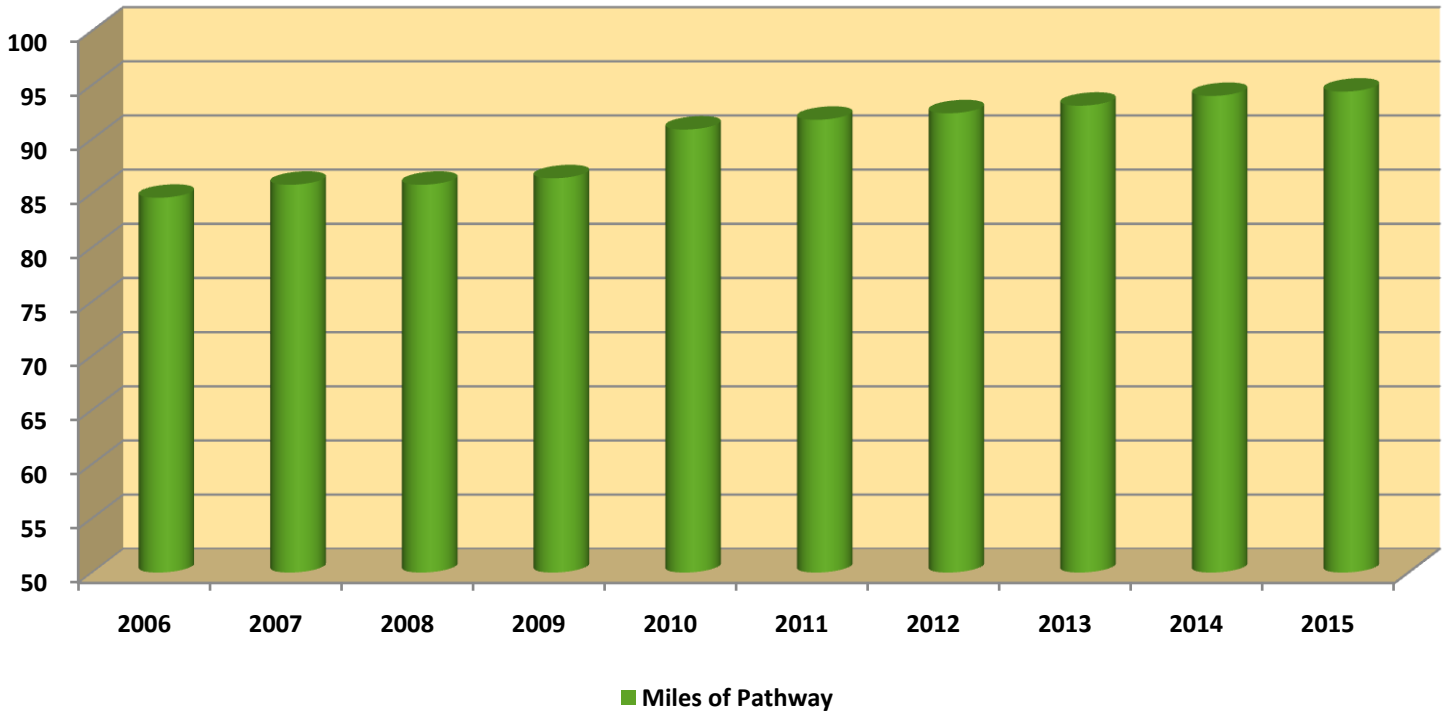
Miles of Pathway



The availability of a pathway system is often one of the qualities that future homeowners look for when examining a city to locate to. Over 97 miles of the city's planned 120-mile pathway system have been completed through both city funding and/or from private development funding.

Indicator Score = Yellow/Same

TREND ANALYSIS:

The trend suggests that we are headed in the right direction toward completing our planned 120 miles of citywide pathways. If there are any concerns in reaching that goal, it would be funding. Recent reductions in taxable values and the length of time it will take to recover prior taxable values, will put pressure on the funding needed to complete the remainder of the pathway system.
